CURIO®

“Simplicity is the Ultimate Sophistication”

CURIO was established as a result of the accumulation of experiences and expertise in designing and producing furniture and home decorative items. Our products do not only have good design, but also have excellent quality.

Wood is the main material that we have carefully selected for creating quality wood products. Because we have special skills in wood working. We have continuously innovated our wood products to look more valuable in both appearance and touch. We intend to print out that the worthy craft products are not simply built up by any wood craftsmen without preciseness and steadiness. Our craft products are carefully built by the machines in our factory. These products not only look great but all pieces are built up with precision. And the machines need to be controlled by skilful wood craftsmen.

CURIO products will be used by everyone as a part of daily life without any questions. So, we design CURIO products to be distinctly simple, unsophisticated and not over reformative. We believe that “Simplicity is the Ultimate Sophistication”. We desire to produce furniture that is not merely an art piece for display but can be touched and used by everyone. Hence, our furniture is good functional. We give more emphasis to the usage comfortability and the function to use it at ease.

We never overlook any details of our products. We are attentive to every process starting from designing, producing, fitting and final touching for the beauty. These processes are necessary for our products as they can give mental values that you deserve to achieve from every piece of CURIO products.

FURNITURE INDEX

STANDARD table

The table has a simple configuration with the classic Scandinavian style. It is without any sophisticated form and the usage is timeless. Details of the natural material and the woodcraft are particularly emphasized. The table can be placed in any style of house and suited with any design of chair.

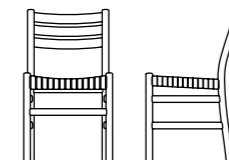

160/180/200/240 x 85/95 x 72h cm

STANDARD chair

Simplicity and particular attention are the heart of this collection. It was originally influenced by the Scandinavian design that looks classic and timeless. But we have modernized it. As the result, the chair can be placed everywhere in any style house.

Additionally, the seating is weaved by hand. That makes this simple chair so perfect.

47 x 53 x 80h cm

PIER table / bench

PIER table was intentionally designed to look raw but with full particulars as of it is made by wood craftsman himself. With raw design, its usage is unlimited. It can be used as working table, dining table or multi-purpose table for different family activities. It can even be the only table for all functions in the house.

160/180/200/240 x 85/95 x 72h cm

Podium is minimalist and hence inclines to use less but cost effective wood

CURIO products are made by a furniture manufactory under the name of Podium Holding Group Co., Ltd. The company has a long history with collected knowledge and expertise in woodcrafts. Our products meet international accredited quality standards and are hence exported to Asia and Europe. Podium has always innovated the following essential factors:

On the product quality aspect: We stress all details for the perfection and durability of our products. Our factory holds to a principle of zero defect.

On the timeliness aspect: We have been able to produce and deliver our products as scheduled.

On the design aspect: We accept all new ideas for consideration in creating production techniques and developing labor skills.

On the environmental responsibility: Podium cares the environment. We use only clean wood from economically well managed forests in North America and EU. Podium is minimalist and hence inclines to use less but cost effective wood.

You can now rest assured that CURIO products are so perfect that all details have been carefully monitored to meet world class quality standards and product delivery is regularly on time.
